DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claim 1 is directed to a process. For a process to be patentable under 35 U.S.C. 101, the process must (1) be tied to another statutory class (such as a particular apparatus) or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or materials) to a different state or thing (see Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n.9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70 (1972); Cochrane v. Deener, 94 U.S. 780, 787-88 (1876)).

In this case, the recited method/process does not recite any particular apparatus or features of an apparatus to which the process is tied. Furthermore, the claimed method/process recites steps of “identifying candidate tempos ...,” “ranking the candidate tempos ...,” and “compiling a tempo scheme ...,” none of which result in the transformation of subject matter to a different state or thing. The claim therefore does not meet the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 9-11 fail to point out and distinctly claim Applicant's invention, as there is no further structure is recited in the claims, and the claims seem to merely recite the intended use of the invention claimed in the parent claim. Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-5,7,8,12,13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being fully met by Tzanetakis.

Tzanetakis discloses a music genre classification system which comprises identifying candidate tempos of the music input signal (Fig. 1, columns 1,2); ranking the candidate tempos according to their relative strengths ("calculating the first and second

Art Unit: 2837

BH peaks"); compiling a tempo scheme comprising the relationship of the ranked candidate tempos to each other (page 297, column 1; Fig. 2).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 9,10 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 6,11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
